OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

IT MUST HAVE BEEN the heat wave—We called a certain party last week at a state office in San Jose not knowing at the time the person we wanted was on vacation.

"She's away from her desk for 20 seconds."

At least, that's what we thought the gal at the information desk told us.

We thought that was cutting it pretty fine, especially for a state office.

But we said we would wait.

The gal sounded perplexed.

"Your party is on vacation," she said, "and won't be back until the 22nd."

That was an entirely different version of what we had thought we had heard the first time around.

It would have been too long to wait.

Even for a state employee.

THE VACANT LOT NEXT to The Press has a few trees on it close to our building at the rear of the lot. (It also has an abundance of weeds, which are kept down reasonably well.)

For a number of years the trees at the rear have provided shelter for so-called "transits" in varying stages of inebriation.

Some have become almost permanent "residents" and have fixed up their abode with ragged blankets and canvas. You might call it their summer home.

The Press keeps its five-feet extension into the lot fairly clear of debris but housekeeping in the tree-house is somewhat lax.

One might say that the interior design follows the discarded wine bottle motif.

Periodically the occupants of what just must be the most sub-standard housing in Campbell are deprived of their "squatter's rights". They are moved out by the cops, politely but firmly.

After one of the most recent displacements, we made a cursory inspection of the area.

For our (and yours, if you care) edification we learned that "Red Mountain" was the most popular brand consumed on the premises, based on the dead soldiers that remained.

WE THOUGHT THAT was interesting in a sort of obnoxious way.

You see we had just read where the hippie group that was attempting to take over the "Berkeley Barb", an underground newspaper in that beleaguered city, called themselves the "Red Mountain Tribe", named appropriately after their favorite wine, consumption of which they apparently considered an integral part of their operation.

Those winos next to The Press are probably of a different breed than the hippie element that dominates Berkeley.

Except for dirt, they had nothing in common.

That is, until we unearthed this new common denominator for them.

Red Mountain Wine.

Bottled, by the way, in Modesto.

THE YOUTH EMPLOYment Service under the direction of Jerry Arca, local Pacific Telephone manager and director of the Campbell CofC, has done an excellent job this summer in attempting to find employment for teenagers.

The Campbell setup, which operates out of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce office with Judy Ann Rothwell, as teen-age director, has served as a model for a similar operation that was established in Los Gatos.

Both communities, of course, had the same problem.

More kids than jobs available.

A WHALE OF AN EXPERIENCE—Harry Colby, of 946 N. Central, displays the torn "shoe" (part of the complete wet-suit) worn by his son, Ron, last Sunday when a whale grabbed the swim-fin and chewed the "shoe" and slashed Ron's foot. Young Colby is now in Campbell Community Hospital recovering from the traumatic experience. His foot was badly mangled by the whale but full recovery is expected.

Whale chews foot of Campbell diver

Being mistaken for a seal while in your wet suit and in deep water can be a harrowing experience, especially when a passing whale decides it's time for chow.

Ron Colby, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Colby, of 946 N. Central, Campbell, who is recovering in the Campbell Community Hospital from a badly mangled foot, can vouch for that.

Colby, who is on terminal leave from the U. S. Army, in which he served as a captain in the medical corps as a medical technician in Nepal, tangled with the whale while diving in a scuba suit Sunday at 7 p.m. near Latta Beach (between Davenport and Half Moon Bay) south of Pigeon Point.

With Merlin Rhodes, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Rhodes, of 930 N. Central, a next door neighbor, Colby was in about 20-feet deep water. Their paddleboard was about 100 yards off shore when the collision with the whale occurred.

Rhodes, a Campbell High grad who now attends Chico State where he is a member of the swim team, was first brushed by the whale. He shouted a warning to Ron. But it was too late. The whale had already grabbed Colby's foot.

The swim-fin was torn off and Colby's foot was badly slashed.

Both young men managed to climb onto the paddleboard which had overturned. They made it to shore with Ron holding his foot in the air to slow the bleeding.

On the shore were both Mr. and Mrs. Colby. Colby, Sr., after applying a tourniquet assisted Rhodes in packing Ron to the highway about three-quarters of a mile away.

Colby paid special tribute to the excellent physical condition of young Rhodes, mentioning that for most of the way to the highway Rhodes carried young Colby on his back.

On the highway, a California Highway Patrol car was flagged down and the injured Colby was rushed to a Santa Cruz hospital.

There, emergency treatment was given and Colby was later in the evening transferred to the Campbell Community Hospital where the injured limb was treated by the doctors.

Reports from the hospital indicate that Colby will recover fully from the injury without any serious effects.

The two skin divers had been at the same location the previous day and observed many seals heading north. They deduce that the whale came in to latch onto a seal for a meal and mistakenly grabbed the swim-fin instead.

Council meets Monday as redevelopment agency

Campbell's Redevelopment Agency (composed of members of the City Council) will meet for the first time next Monday, July 28.

The historical session will be sandwiched in between items on the agenda for the regular meeting of the City Council which also takes place next Monday.

The councilmen are scheduled to "recess" as a City Council, don their other hats and reconvene as the redevelopment agency, do their thing and then adjourn to become councilmen again for the rest of the evening.

The first meeting of the Redevelopment Agency, established by ordinance in order to apply for funds under the Neighborhood Development Planning program of the federal government, will be mostly for organizational purposes. The agency will meet monthly from now on (the second Monday at 9 p.m.)

The councilmen will take their oaths of office, adopt by-laws, discuss the formation of the citizens advisory group, an integral part of the agency set-up and then hear the staff report as to progess to date.

The survey area, consisting of 120 acres, which is to be studied on the federal program has already been designated. It extends from Winchester Blvd. on the west to the railroad tracks on the east between Latimer and Kennedy avenues.

It also includes the Gilman-Dillon-Railway section of town.

The Downtown Revitalization Committee, headed by John Faber, of the Campbell Memorial Chapel, was scheduled to meet this morning at 7:30, to discuss the redevelopment program and to name three representatives from their group to serve on the redevelopment advisory committee.

Bill Hedley, architect for the civic center project, was also scheduled to make a progress report on the civic center site plan.

On the Council's agenda next Monday is a request from the Parks and Recreation Commission for the Planning Commission and City Council to take another look at the zoning for Rincon Park and adjoining properties.

The P&R Commission notes

College board favors spring bond vote instead of this fall

Although the advisory committee by a divided vote had recommended Oct. 14 as the tentative date for a bond election for the West Valley Junior College, the college board of trustees last Thursday decided to explore the possibility of an election next spring instead of this fall.

The board made the decision after considering the available cost figures, building plans and possible election dates.

But Trustee Donald E. Lindstrom pointed out that the projections did not include costs of buildings for two new prospective campus sites in Santa Clara and in south San Jose.

Lindstrom also emphasized that the possibility of a future administrative headquarters and instructional center on the present Campbell location should be contemplated. That had also been advocated by Trustee William J. Homan last year.

The board directed Dr. Wallace Hall, college president, to select a special committee to define specific building needs of the whole district and to ascertain their costs.

Chairman Edward A. Panelli noted that population projections and space utilization studies based on a state formula show a critical classroom shortage developing on both campuses of the college.

However, he added, a well-

$12.5 million project

Plans go to city for Gomes Ranch

Plans for one of the largest developmetns in the history of Campbell, estimated to be a $12.5 million project for the former 26-acre Gomes Ranch between Latimer and Hamilton, have been submitted to the city's planning department, according to Art Kee, planning director.

The site plan, which will be checked by Kee and his staff prior to submission to the Planning Commission, calls for an apartment complex of 780 units on 19-acres with commercial development on Hamilton.

The commercial area, consisting of about 6½-acres will extend along Hamilton Ave. for 900 feet with a depth of 315-feet.

The three-story apartment complex, with underground parking, will back up to the commercial center. The tentative plans call for tennis courts, swimming pool and landscaped areas. Slightly more than 50% of the area will be landscaped, Kee notes.

Developers for the project are John DeManto and Anthony C. Morici.

The site plan calls for Third St., which presently ends at Latimer, to be cut through to Hamilton Ave.

Kee said that the apartment complex calls for 318 one-bedroom apartments, 390 two-bedroom and 72 two-bedroom-den.

Park bond committee returns CofC check

Campbell Chamber of Commerce, at the end of the fiscal year (June 30) blessed with one of the largest cash balances ($7,793.28) in that organization's history this week had $167 more in the treasury than had been anticipated.

Campbell Citizens for Parks, the hard-working, grass-roots civic group that sponsored headed the successful $625,000 park bond election on June 10, this week decided that financial assistance from the Chamber of Commerce was unnecessary to meet the obligations incurred in the campaign.

In a special session, the committee voted not to accept the $167 allocation that had been approved some what reluctantly by the CofC executive committee.

Bill Podgorsek, committee chairman, noted that because the campaign had been conducted on such a "bare-bone" basis (on a total budget of $878), enough other contributions had been made to offset the need for the CofC contribution and that it was being returned.

Podgorsek also explained that because some criticism had been levied by individual CofC board members as to how some of the campaign money had been spent, committee members felt that it would be better for all concerned not to use any CofC funds.

The chairman added that members of the citizens committee had spent countless hours on a volunteer basis in the campaign and did not want any possible shadow to blemish the outstanding record that was made at the polls on June 10 when 74% of the voters favored the bond issue.

The chairman also said that the committee members were appreciative of the gesture made by the CofC, although some had been critical of the belated endorsement for the bond issue made by the Chamber of Commerce board and also for the lack of assistance during the campaign.

Podgorsek pointed out that any additional contributions received by the citizens committee will be put in a fund for park development.

Dr. Wallace Hall plans to resign as WVC prexy

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, president/superintendent of the West Valley College District since its formation in 1963, submitted his resignation last Thursday in a surprise announcement.

The resignation would be effective July 31, 1970.

Dr. Hall, whose term does not expire until June 30, 1972, stated that he would "give consideration...to a second career in the productive years which still lie ahead". At the conclusion of the current school year, Dr. Hall will have completed 35 years in or on behalf of the California public schools.

Dr. Hall was appointed to his post on July 18, 1963, by a board of trustees itself only in existence for three months.

Beginning with no faculty, administrators, students or facilities, Hall was able to nurture the growth of two campuses handling some 9,000 students in the last academic year.

West Valley's trustees appointed Dr. Hall to the president/superintendent post while he was serving as associate superintendent of public instruction and chief, division of higher education for the State Department of Education.

Dr. Hall received B.A. and B.S. degrees from Ohio State University in 1931 and a masters degree in History and Political Science from the College of the Pacific in 1932. He later studied at the University of California, Berkeley, where he received a doctorate in Political Science.

DR. WALLACE HALL

At Berkeley, Dr. Hall began his teaching career, lecturing in Political Science and in Education. Later, he taught at Coalinga College, becoming dean of men. Next he took over duties as Director of Adult Education in the College of Marin.

He later became Marin County Superintendent of Schools before taking his position with the State Department of Education.

Dr. Hall lives with his wife Betty in Saratoga.

Housing problem

One of the most pressing problems that faces this community is the lack of adequate housing for those in the low and moderate income category.

Campbell is not alone in this, for almost every community in the country has a similar situation to some degree.

However, as always, the problems of other areas generally appear remote until something happens locally that brings the whole situation into focus.

And that is what has happened in Campbell.

We cannot ignore the fact that there is a great deal of so-called substandard housing in our community.

And it is also a fact that providing substitute (and adequate) housing for people who are displaced for some reason or another is a difficult task, especially when the demand far exceeds the supply.

Although it is unfair to say, as one of the youthful leaders of the United Progreso Arriba proclaimed, that "Campbell is planning the poor out of town", the fact remains that civic pride and civic progress call for upgrading of the community.

Obviously a community cannot be "upgraded", if substandard structures are allowed to dot the landscape.

But, just as obvious, is the fact that people, who are displaced either because their dwellings are unfit to live in or are in the way of new public facilities, as in the case of Campbell, must have some place to go.

It is a dilemma for which there is no direct solution.

That is the situation in Campbell today.

But we consider the resolution adopted by the City Council after a study session with representatives of United Progreso Arriba pinpoints the problem, emphasizes the concern of the City with the problem and establishes a guideline for cooperation in the exploration of every possible means to alleviate a critical situation.

Here is the resolution that was passed unanimously by the City Council on July 14:

A RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CAMPBELL AFFIRMING A POSITION FOR THE PROVISION OF ADEQUATE AND SAFE HOUSING FOR LOW AND MODERATE INCOME INDIVIDUALS AND FAMILIES IN THE CITY OF CAMPBELL

WHEREAS, there exists a shortage of adequate and safe housing for the low and moderate income people in Santa Clara County, and, more specifically, in the City of Campbell, and

WHEREAS, the City Council has met with Campbell citizens who are concerned with the lack of low and moderate income housing in Campbell, and

WHEREAS, the City Council desires to affirm its position of concern for adequate and safe housing for low and moderate income families,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED AS FOLLOWS:

1. That the City Council, Planning Commission, and administrative staff shall continue to encourage the utilization of homes and multiple residential units to eligible low and moderate income individuals and families under the Federally financed Lease Supplement Program, as administered by the Santa Clara County Housing Authority;

2. That the City Council of Campbell shall support and endorse appropriate State and Federal legislation which would ultimately provide adequate and safe housing for low and moderate income citizens;

3. That the City Council and Redevelopment Agency of the City of Campbell will give high priority consideration for the provision of housing for low and moderate income people in the Neighborhood Development Program which is currently in the Planning phase.

4. That the City Council and Redevelopment Agency shall enlist the advice and active support of representatives of low and moderate income people in the planning and execution of the Neighborhood Development Program for the Downtown Business District and Dillon-Gilman-Railway Neighborhood areas.

5. That the City will not order individuals and families out of housing without first aiding and becoming knowledgeable of feasible arrangements for substitute quarters.

6. That the City Council shall adopt a housing element to the City's General Plan.

7. That the City Council shall endorse and support federal aid programs designed to encourage the construction of low and moderate income housing by non-profit agencies.

8. That the City shall become knowledgeable of current and future Federally sponsored programs which provide aid to the construction of new moderate income housing.

program, has made appeal after appeal to local business firms to assess their operations and try to find a spot for a qualified youngster.

Many firms have placed youths this summer but there still remains a terrific backlog of applicants.

Although the summer is rapidly going on the downhill slide, there is still time enough left to do some good.

So sorta look around, will you?

-0-

THE NEED FOR JOBS for the youngsters was brought into focus at a recent City Council meeting when the Council waived the business license fee for an enterprising young man who desired to paint house numbers on the curbs.

Cliff Handley, of 75 N. Central, made a personal appearance at the meeting after first writing a letter to the City Council.

We think the letter is deserving of notice:

"Dear Sir:

"I am fifteen years of age and a freshman in high school. Since it is so hard to get a job I was wondering if I could get a license so I (and a friend) could go around painting the addresses of houses on the curb of the street.

"My friend and I plan to attend the council meeting on July 14th to talk it over with you. I would appreciate it if you would think this over very carefully and let me have the results at the meeting.

"Your friend,
Cliff Handley."

The councilmen thought it over very carefully.

Cliff didn't have to make hardly any sales pitch.

The license fee was waived in nothing flat.

And we have a sneaking hunch that some of the councilmen will be Cliff's customers.

Come to think of it, the house numbers are faded on our curb.

Come around, Cliff, with your buddy, Larry Euliss and some paint.

A NOTE THIS WEEK WAS received from Bob Blonder, manager of First Valley Bank in Campbell and treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce and one of the best golfers in town.

Bob was chairman of the first annual CofC golf tournament in which 80 participated. (Incidentally he also won the trophy for low gross score.)

In his note to us Bob thanked us for the publicity given the tourney but ruefully added that he thought we might be in cahoots with the Rotary Club of which he is a member.

It seems the publicity included the coincidental point that Bob not only ran a successful tournament but also won it. (It's kinda hard to beat those apples.)

Anyway, both Blonder and Ed Fabbri, manager of the Campbell Ave. branch of Bank of America and also a Rotarian, were fined by the club for the publicity they had received.

Ed, who was handling the golf clubs for the first time, received a trophy which he displays prominently on his desk, for being the worst golfer in the tourney.

There is no question that Bob topped the field and was deserving of the trophy but we questioned the award made to Ed.

There were a number of us who were hacking away that day at Riverside who should have been in the running for being the "worst" award.

have been in the running for the "worst" award.

Apparently Blonder really didn't mind the publicity.

In his note he added that he already was looking forward to next year's tournament. (He must be short of trophies.)

But, Bob, we are not in cahoots with the Rotary Club.

Let those chips drop where they may.

THAT "EMERGENCY" holiday that was proclaimed for the moon-landing this week caused considerable confusion with respect to what was going to be open and what was going to be closed.

We happened to be at the City Hall when the various cities in the county were in the throes of deciding this major issue. Each city apparently wanted to know what the others were going to do about it before acting.

Our office had one advantage in this respect. There is no problem for us when a Monday is a holiday.

We just work.

At the risk of sounding cynical or envious, we wonder what percentage of those who were off on Monday paused to reflect the historical significance of the occasion, as opposed, say, to the more basic advantages that a long weekend brings in the way of recreational activities.

But, there we go, we may be just drooling a little.

AND there was a TV set going all day in the office.

New mobile home park on creek wins approval of city planners

Plans for 121-space mobile home park to be located on the west bank of Los Gatos Creek with access to Camden Ave. received the approval of the Planning Commission Monday night.

Plans were submitted by Leo Freschi. The 13-acre site was originally owned by Western Gravel Co. Over the years it has been filled. To provide acces to the park, the lot at 870 Camden Ave., was aquired.

Other plans approved Monday night included a 19,920 square-foot commerical building between the Sveden House and Renzo's in the Kirkwood Plaza. The building will be constructed by Ira Kirkorian.

William Errico also received approval for a 36-unit apartment complex at 52 Michael Drive and Neil Hamm got the go ahead for a warehouse building at 715 McGlincey Lane.

For a brief period Monday night it appeared uncertain whether the Planning Commission could actually hold an official meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Frank Klein, former commission chairman because of the absence of both Ed Pack, chairman, and Merrill Grim, vice-chairman. Only a bare quorum was on hand; Klein, Thayer Lyons, Norm Paul and Jack Healey.

When Lyons received a phone call, the meeting had to be suspended until his return. Lyons subsequently was called away. But by this time Dale Scott had arrived so the necessary four members were on hand to conduct business the rest of the evening.

The Commission gave approval to the variance request of John Holt, at 661 Inwood Drive, for a second-story addition and approved the prezoning of 3.7 acres being annexed to the City on the south side of McGlincey Lane west of Westchester Drive.

The property included a pie-shaped parcel that would be R-1 (single family) fronting on an extension of Sweetbriar Drive, with the remainder of the property light industrial.

Residents of the adjacent area commended the West Valley Construction Co. that is located in the industrial part of the tract. They said the firm was considerate of the adjacent single-family homes but maintained that another industrial firm in the same general area was not.

Considerable time was spent on another prezoning matter concerning parcels being annexed located on Shelley Ave., S. Bascom and White Oaks Road.

At the request of Art Kee, planning director, the matter was deferred until Aug. 18 to allow the planning staff to make a study of the general area.

Frank Bonacich, of 112 Shelley Ave., whose property is not being annexed, took the floor to expound on the need for a general plan that would take in more area than just the parcel under consideration for annexation.

Deferred until Sept. 2 to allow for the submission of revised plans was the application of Edward LaCroix and Duncan Iwagaki for a planned development schedule for a 52-unit apartment complex on the north side of Gale Dr. between Darryl Dr. and Marathon Dr.

The Commission set Aug. 18 as the hearing date for the proposed annexation of a long, narrow strip (77-feet x 700-feet) off Darryl Dr. and south of Mona Way, north of Hamilton.

The property is now in the city limits of San Jose but is impractical for service by that city. It is in the process of being disannexed.

defined bond "package" would be necessary to meet this need if public support is to be obtained.

Assistant Superintendent Robert E. Arnold corroborated Panelli's assertion of population growth in the West Valley College District. County Planning Department figures show that both parent and student numbers have increased almost exactly according to projections of a 1966 Master Plan for Facilities. The plan, prepared by the School Planning Laboratory of Stanford University, calls for three campuses to handle the anticipated growth.

Dr. Hall noted that the average daily attendance increased an average of 22.4 percent for all categories of students during the 1968-69 school year.

"Inflation as well as population growth should be accounted for," said Lindstrom, pointing out, "A previously defeated bond issue that would have provided an entire campus will now only complete the Saratoga campus for which the land has already been acquired and two permanent buildings constructed thereon. We can't wait much longer."

In compliance with the Junior College Construction Act the board approved a revised ten-year master plan of construction for the district. Projects listed in the plan include buildings for the Saratoga campus and site acquisitions for "Mission Campus" in Santa Clara and the one in the southeast section of the district. It also included some buildings for the Mission campus.

Dr. Hall reported that all state funds totalling $29,307,682 budgeted for the state's share in the construction of junior college facilities for 1969-70 are contingent on the sale of Junior College Construction Bonds.

The board also directed Dr. Hall to explore creation of a general policy regarding provision by the district of transportation to the college for disadvantaged students in areas lacking public transportation.

Dr. Hall reported that Santa Clara Unified School District would be willing to provide one bus at a modest fee for the transportation of students from the Alviso area to the college's campuses.

GAS TAX INCOME

Campbell has received $16,531.52 as the June apportionment of the highway users tax, mainly from the gasoline tax, from State Controller Houston I. Flournoy. The county's share was $574,034.65 of the total $52,638,939 that was distributed throughout the state.

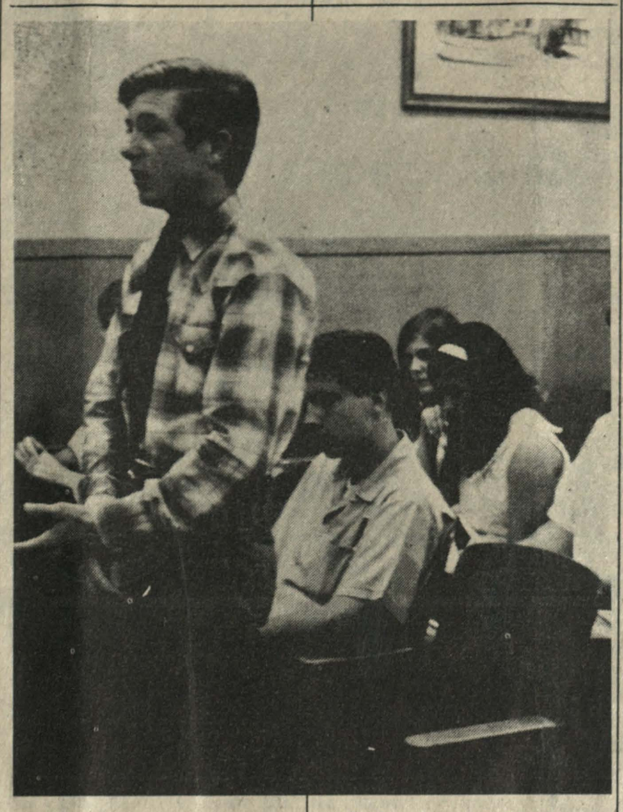
OPEN FOR BUSINESS--- Workmen on Monday and Tuesday were rushing the finishing touches to "Plaza II", the twin of Plaza Theater I, in the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center, Winchester at Budd. The ribbon-cutting ceremonies were scheduled for last night (Tuesday) with Wednesday the scheduled opening day for the general public.

Both theaters will show motion pictures each evening during the week, with continuous shows on Saturday and Sunday. The theaters are owned by Jack Grunsky and Norman Paul.

About 30 employees are needed to staff the show houses. Plaza I opened in November, 1966.



LICENSE WAIVED---Cliff Handley, 15, of 223 N. Carlyn Ave., Campbell, and a high school freshman, appeared at a recent City Council meeting to request that the business license needed for him to paint house numbers on curbs be waived. He explained that it was difficult to find employment during the summer and that he and his friend, Larry Euliss, 1627 Ixias Court, San Jose (pictured behind him) were going into business for themselves. The Council waived the license.

that the zoning as specified in the general plan is in conflict with recent developments, including the successful bond issue. Funds from the bonds will allow the city to acquire the eight-acre Hiatt and Zolezzi property adjacent to the park. The property in question, as well as other parcels in the general area, are now zoned for apartments.

The P&R Commission is also recommending that a selection committee be named to choose the landscape architect who will develop a master plan for the parks. Representatives of the park planning commission and council would be on the committee.

Workshop produces hit musical at Leigh High

Leonard Bernstein's hit Broadway musical "West Side Story", the undertaking of the Campbell Union High School District's Theater Arts Workshop fourth annual presentation currently in production at Leigh High School, 5210 Leigh Ave.

John Hall returns as director with Bill Perkins, as musical director. Perkins joined the program last year. Rachael Ellis and Janie Jones are a mother-daughter team who have journeyed each summer from Arizona to act as costumer and choreographer. New to the staff are Peggy Alberti, rehearsal pianist and assistant musical director; Kay Pruvich, a "graduate" of the program, scenic design artist, and Gail McEvoy, stage manager and publicist, also a former performer with the workshop.

"West Side Story" is a tragic story of teen-agers on the west side of New York. Shirley Hennessy plays Maria, a Puerto Rican girl who falls in love with Tony (Dennis Schmedes), an American.

Maria's brother Bernardo (Ken Jercha), is the leader of a Puerto Rican gang whose worst enemies are a group headed by Tony's best friend, Riff (Ken Ruano).

The conflict is complicated by a police lieutenant with a thirst for power played by Mike Whyte.

As in Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet", on which the musical is loosely based, the deaths of the two lovers lead to a greater understanding between the feuding factions.

The workshop, originally known as the Summer Humanities Workshop financed by a federal grant, is now offered to students as a summer school course with unit credit.

Participants are trained in all phases of theatrical production. Outstanding past performances include "Brigadoon", "The King and I" and "The Fantasticks".

Opening performance is July 30 at 8 p.m., which will be repeated on three successive nights. Tickets for the performances are limited, due to the smaller facilities at Leigh. For information, call 377-4470.

WEST SIDE TOUGHS--- Knives flash, police whistles shriek and toughs and hoods clash in a gang fight in Campbell Union High School District's Theater Arts Workshop offering of "West Side Story" to be performed at Leigh High School July 30, 31, August 1 and 2. Don Quixote new musical Don Quixote rides again--this time in a musical version of the story presented by Cabrini Community Theater on Saturday and Sunday, July 26 and 27.

Featured in the title role is Karl Johnson of Campbell High School. Aldonza is played by Pat Cutler and Mark Healy is the ever faithful Sancho.

The community theater, located in Cabrini Hall on Camden Ave., is a completely youth activity, with all production details handled by 8 to 17-year-olds.

For their third production, scheduled for August, the youngsters have formed an orchestra which rehearses each Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m. Interested musicians are invited.

Daily auditions for the forthcoming musical are held weekdays at the hall at 4 p.m.

Tickets for Don Quixote, with performances at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Saturday and at 3 p.m. on Sunday may be obtained at the hall weekdays from 1 to 4 p.m. or by calling 377-3508 or 371-0232.

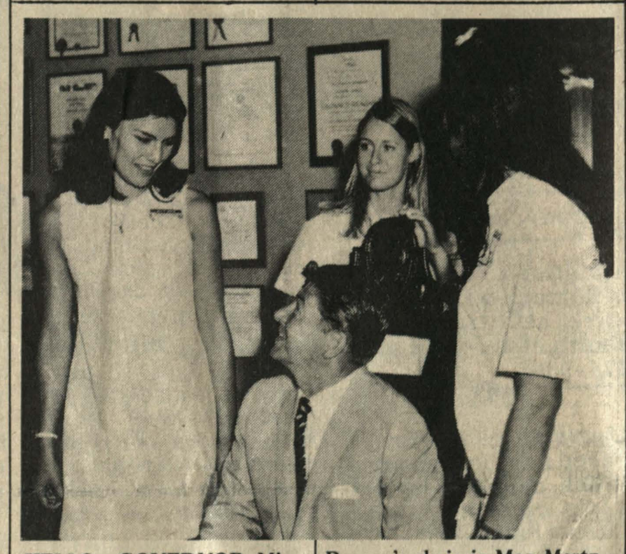
Emblems given auxiliary women

Two Campbell residents were honored in the Good Samaritan Hospital Auxiliary ceremony recently.

Mrs. Michael Ryman was given an emblem indicating she had completed her provisional training and could join other auxiliary members in working to provide comfort and convenience for hospital patients.

Junior volunteer Jane Barnes also was presented an emblem by hospital administrator Robert K. Kirk.

Both Mrs. Ryman and Miss Barnes participate in the patient service offered by the Auxiliary, delivering flowers, mail, running errands, and escorting patients in wheelchairs.



HELLO GOVERNOR--Miss Janie Wong, on the left, past governor of the American Legion Auxiliary sponsored Girl's State, attended several sessions of this year's Girl's State. Janie was included in the group of newly-elected officials invited to visit Governor Ronald Reagan at his office in Sacramento. Behind Reagan's chair is Meg Mertz, of Wasco, named outstanding citizen of the convention and on the right, Marilyn Neumair, of North Hollywood who was elected governor for 1969. Miss Wong, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wong of 494 Sunnyoaks Ave., was sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, West Valley Unit 158.

Knowles reunion attracts fifty

Fifty persons who have strong "roots" in Campbell gathered Saturday night in a potluck picnic in San Jose.

The eight children of Mrs. Arva Knowles and the late Warren Knowles of 180 W. Rincon Ave. and their families gathered for the first time in many years.

Occasion for the get-together was the arrival from Boston of Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Thelma) Hudson and their families.

All of Mrs. Knowles children attended Campbell schools from kindergarten through high school and several completed their education at San Jose State.

Eldest son is Glen Knowles, superintendent of mails at Campbell Post Office. Others are Mrs. George (Muriel) Grady, of San Jose; Mrs. Juanita Gary of San Jose, "instigator" of the gathering; David Knowles, Palo Alto; Mrs. Barbara Hartman of Campbell; Robert Knowles of Kerman; and Dan Knowles of San Jose. Also attending was an aunt, Mrs. Muriel Knowles of Vallejo.

Mrs. Knowles is the grandmother of 23 and great-grandmother of nine. She and Mr. Knowles came to Campbell in 1920 and resided at the Rincon Ave. address since that time.

Senior action spaghetti feed

The West Valley Senior Action Center is kicking off a "new year" with a spaghetti dinner on Sunday, July 27, 1:30 p.m. for friends, members and prospective members.

The dinner will be served at St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 41 W. Rincon, Campbell. Residents of the Campbell-Los Gatos area, over 65, are welcome.

Goals for the coming year will be outlined and July birthdays will be celebrated.

The center is concerned with the problems of older people, principally housing and transportation.

Acting director is Irma Reese, replacing the recently resigned Ed Rider.

Surprise party for Hendricks

A surprise party was held recently by Orchard City Grange to honor Lawrence and Marie Hendricks of Apricot Ave., on their 50th Wedding anniversary.

Lifelong friends Mr. and Mrs. Coe participated in the "this is your life" format program, with solos by Goldy Glick and Dorothy Tyson. A skit by Dorothy Keesling and Perrin Martin depicted the Hendricks as newlyweds and Noble Rasmussen and Guy Proctor were featured speakers.

Past masters Fred Bentley, Werner Raab, Al McCoy and Bob Scholz honored fellow past master Hendricks who joined Orchard City Grange in 1927.

Guy and Sadie Proctor were chairmen for the event.

College theater presents "Picnic' July 31 - Aug. 1-2

West Valley College's Summer Theatre Workshop will present William Inge's Pulitzer Prize and Critics' Circle Award winning play "Picnic" on July 31 and Aug. 1-2 in the college's auditorium, Campbell Ave. at Winchester Blvd.

Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 for community and 75 cents for any student, and can be purchased at the door.

Designed and directed by Charles Hoover, director of the workshop, the production tells a story of what happens to a predominantly female group when it is confronted by a young man of neither polish nor promise, but with a great deal of animal vitality.

West Valley's cast includes Ed Church and Jan Zahner of Saratoga, Marc Loreti of Campbell, and Jim Black, Gari Wishni, Beverly Mathis, Dennis Conroy, Lorraine Howell, Ruth Stephens, Marilyn Wisler, and Fae Uderitz of San Jose.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 15
By Nan Warren

"When Mom goes off to camp – who's goin'a stay with me?"

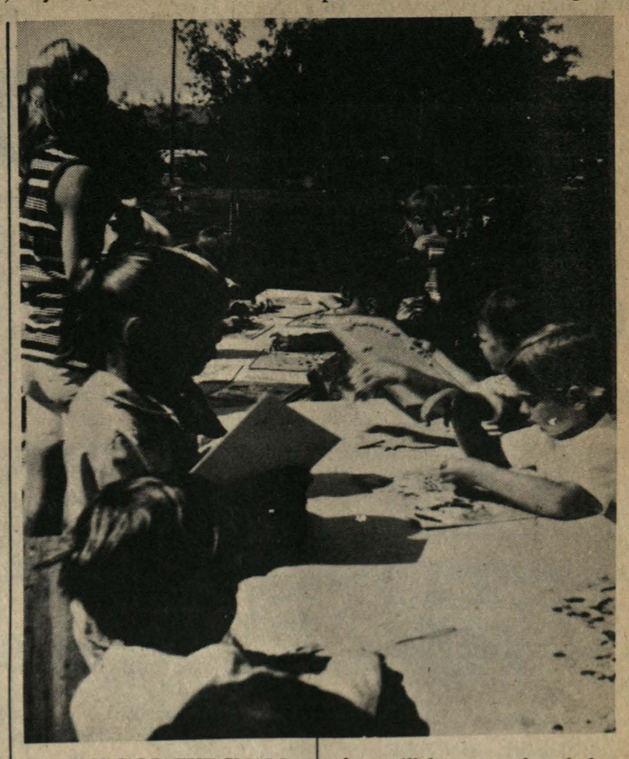
(This is the second of a series of articles concerning Girl Scout Day Camp in the Santa Clara Valley. Last week's article explained how these great volunteer mothers give their time to spend a week at camp with their Scout-age daughter. But what about the "little folk" and the older boys who are not quite old enough to be left alone?)

For the younger children, beginning at age three, our camps in the Campbell area provide what we term a Kiddie Koral. These children are placed in a unit all their own with a planned program suited to their age level. It is far from being a baby-sitting agency!

They, too, must remain within the confines of the park area but the mothers in charge try to expose them to as much of a camping situation as possible. They make ice cream (almost daily!), have a cookout, participate in handcrafts and even make plaster casts of the duck prints around the pond at Vasona. Of course, the games, songs and short hikes go without saying.

The older boys, who would become bored staying with the little folk, have a unit of their own also. They are led by an experienced Boy Scout with an adult to supervise. Their hiking is more extensive, their interest in crafts is mild, but when it comes to fishing and baseball – look out!

Girl Scout camping is practically for the entire family. Guess we'll just have to figure out some way to involve DAD!



CRAFTS FOR THE SMALL--Scout activities for those "left behind" when mother takes her turn as a volunteer at camp provide a preview of what will happen when baby brother and sister "grow up" and can participate in regular scout programs.

Bethel wins awards

Campbell's Bethel No. 174 of the International Order of Job's Daughters was honored with an award of two trophies at the 1969 Session of Grand Bethels of California in Long Beach, Calif., this summer.

Kathy Kustel of Bethel No. 174 won the trophies for the Bethel by placing first in the Librarian Book competition involving 250 bethels throughout the state.

Kathy is a graduate of Lincoln High School.

YOUTH CONCERT

Included in the performance will be a special stage band session featuring current big band sounds.

The concert is open to the public and is free of charge.

GRANGE BREAKFAST

The regular monthly breakfast of Orchard City Grange No. 33 will be held this coming Sunday, July 27 at the Grange Hall, 109 N. First St., from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Saturday, July 26, the committee on women's activities will serve sandwichs and coffee at the U. S. O. in the evening.

CARD APPEAL

Four-year old Joey Solinski of 1395 Vallejo Dr., San Jose, 95130, just loves to see the mailman. Well-wishers have been sending Joey cards and picture post-cards to cheer the young man who is seriously ill. His mother, a former S. C. County fair queen, hopes that West Valley residents won't forget the little tyke.

State allocates $40,225 to city in vehicle fees

Campbell has been allocated $40,225.16 in motor license fees which for the first time may be used for local purposes, according to State Controller Houston I. Flournoy.

The June apportionment for the cities and counties in the state came to $22,606,113 and was the first of these funds affected by emergency legislation passed by the current legislature based on the constitutional amendment approved by the voters last November.

The final payment brought the total for the year to $201,414,362. Half of the money, collected in lieu of local property taxes on motor vehicles, goes to the cities and half to the counties with distribution proportionate to population.

County sirens to blast off Friday morning

Sirens in Santa Clara will go off at 11:00 a.m. on Friday, July 25. This is a regular test of warning equipment. A steady blast for one minute, a minute of silence and a final minute of wailing tone or short blasts will be heard.

In event of an actual attack the last signal, a wailing tone or series of short blasts would be sounded for three minutes.

This would be a signal to take refuge in a public fallout shelter or follow other plans you have formed. Santa Clara County emergency broadcast radio stations KXRX, KEEN, and KLOK would begin broadcasting emergency information bulletins.

A steady tone for three minutes would be used if it becomes necessary to warn the public of other disasters. Further information would be broadcast by local radio and television stations.

Periodic testing of warning equipment insures its readiness in an emergency. Officials in Santa Clara and San Mateo County have agreed to test their sirens at 11:00 a.m. on the last Friday of July, October, January and April.

The cities in this county that will test are: Campbell, Cupertino, Gilroy, Los Altos Hills, Los Gatos, Milpitas, Monte Sereno, Mountain View, Palo Alto, San Jose, Santa Clara and Sunnyvale. Sirens will be tested also at key locations in unincorporated areas and at Stanford University, Moffett Field and Redwood Estates.

Local resident takes training at Naval base

Ronald L. Keesling of Campbell was one of 43 airmen recruits who invaded the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit, Naval Air Station, Alameda recently.

His reason for coming was to undergo the time-honored tradition that has signaled the Navy's beginning since it first came into being.

Boot camp, the Navy's way of assimilating young men into military life, began in June, one of two such training periods conducted by NARTU during the year.

A typical day began with reveille at 4 a.m. followed by a clean-up of the barracks. Four hours of each day is spent with marine personnel instructing in drill procedures. The remainder of the day is spent in the classroom learning the various skills of today's Navy man.

In addition, two days are spent at Treasure Island's firefighting school. The Navy is very aware of the dangers of fire on land or sea and provides its new recruits with thorough training in this area.

Graduation was July 13. Capt. A. T. Ditmyer, Commanding Officer of NARTU Alameda, conducted a full dress inspection of the new sailors.

Keesling is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Keesling, of 1286 Arroyo Seco Drive, Campbell.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

NOTE: Mary Wynne of Palo Alto has just completed her Freshman year at the University of Washington and is spending two weeks working in my Washington office. Today I have asked her to write her candid impressions of Congress.

As an intern and a participant in the Washington Workshops Congressional Seminar for two summers, I have had an opportunity to closely watch our Legislative Branch. I have learned to view the Congress as an institution which is frequently misunderstood but which, in the final analysis, is equal to its job.

Congress was established as an institution in the 18th century by the United States Constitution. Though the Constitution did establish a system of checks and balances to insure that the lawmaking power was not totally vested in one House, and though it specified that the House of Representatives should enjoy the prerogative of initiating all bills dealing with revenue while the Senate would have the sole power to ratify treaties and presidential appointments, it was silent on many details of Congressional organization. These details have developed through tradition and practice.

One of the most misunderstood of these traditions is the committee system.

Woodrow Wilson once referred to Congress as a collection of committees. Actually, they do constitute the backbone of our Legislative Branch because the standing committees, often operating in executive (closed) session, consider bills, alter them, and either report them to the full House for a vote or drop them. Actually little is done by the full House which goes beyond confirming or rejecting committee action.

Oftentimes visitors are disturbed by the seemingly disinterested attitude of their Representatives during Floor debates. They do not realize that a Representative has already read the committee report which presents a complete investigation of a proposed measure based upon testimony by informed and concerned persons. It is this report which usually provides the basis upon which a typical Congressman casts his vote.

Leadership on committees is determined by the controversial senority system which is like, to paraphrase Winston Churchill's famous statement about democracy, "The worst possible system—except for all the others!".

Despite its obvious inadequacies the seniority system avoids the internal politics which would hamper a committee's work if its leadership were selected by vote. It also insures that leadership of a committee will go to that person with the longest exposure to the subject matter within committee jurisdiction.

Since Congress is an institution composed of human beings, it is not perfect. But I have learned to see it as a group of basically concerned men and women, who are not given a great deal of credit for the work that they do. They have been elected by the populace so if people do not approve of a proposed bill, they should let their Congressman know. If they do not like the work he is doing, they can vote him out of office and work in a campaign to oppose him. Better government can result only from a cooperative effort by all of us.

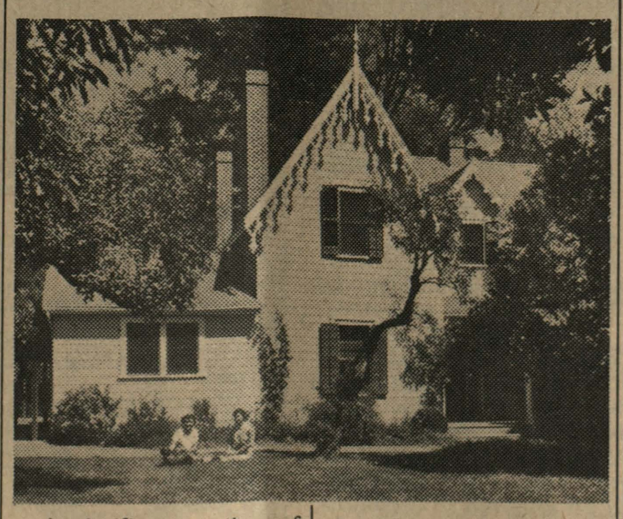
Auto trip to Valley-of-the-Moon provides peek into history



A significant portion of California's history lies cradled in lush Sonoma County in the Valley of the Moon and a car trip is an ideal way to acquaint oneself with one of the more romantic eras in the state's rich historical heritage.

At Sonoma Historic State Park the original buildings of the Spanish, the Mexican Republic and the American 19th century periods stand side by side, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Mission San Francisco de Solano, better known as Sonoma Mission, was the last in the chain of 21 California missions and the only one established under Mexican rule. It overlooks the eight-acre plaza laid out by General Mariano G. Vallejo. The mission was established in July, 1823 by young Padre Jose Altimira.

The original mission was plastered inside and out with white-washed mud. The only original building that remains is the priest's quarters, now a museum displaying mementos of early California.

Within the walls of the mission are displays devoted to different periods of history—the Bear Flag revolt, the pioneers, the early development of the town of Sonoma, Spanish missions and missionaries, the California Indian and the days of the Mexican Republic.

Original water colors by the celebrated California artist, Chris Jorgensen, hang here. His 61 paintings are studies of all the California missions as they appeared in the early 1800's.

A few steps away from the mission are the Mexican army barracks built to house the soldiers of the presidial company. The Quartel, a two-story structure with balcony was erected in 1839-41, when Vallejo was commandante-general of the northern frontier.

This historic building recalls the garrison-pueblo days of Mexico's frontier in California. Spectators on the balcony could have seen the raising of the Bear Flag across the then dusty road, signalling the end of the Mexican rule. The flag was raised June 14, 1846, by American settlers.

A bronze statue stands on the northeast corner of the Plaza, commemorating the birth of the California Republic.

When Vallejo and his family arrived in Sonoma, the Indians built them a large adobe home west of the mission, two stories high with a three-story lookout tower. It was called Casa Grande. Today only the servants' wing remains, a long, narrow building that has been restored.

Other historic spots around the Plaza, besides the mission, barracks and Casa Grande, include the Swiss Hotel, formerly the home of Don Salvador Vallejo, the general's brother; and the Blue Wing Inn, operated as an early inn and now a gift shop.

A long, tree-lined avenue leads to Vallejo's home one-half mile out of town. He called it Lachryma Montis, or Tear of the Mountain, because of the abundant spring nearby. The home, fully furnished as when the Vallejo's lived there, is of Gothic design, two stories high with steep-pitched roof and dormer windows overlooking a garden of lawn, roses, orange and magnolia trees.

B of A prepares forward-looking study for county

What does the future hold for Santa Clara County?

This question will soon be answered by Bank of America in a forward-looking study scheduled for release in mid-August.

"Bank researchers and writers have been compiling statistics and analyzing their findings," according to E. J. Fabri, manager of the bank's Campbell Branch.

"The results, projected through 1980, will be published in a brochure entitled 'Focus on Santa Clara County.' This will be the most current, comprehensive guide to the county's economy available."

Fabri said the in-depth report has a threefold purpose:

"It will give local civic leaders a better perspective on the past and potential growth of the area;

"It will be distributed to key business and industrial people throughout the nation as part of Bank of America's continuing efforts to provide helpful information to firms which might be interested in relocating in California;

"And it will help inform California businessmen and our branch officers in other parts of the state about the economic makeup and potential of Santa Clara County".

Fabri emphasized that the report is written in terms understandable to the average businessman.

The local study is part of a series being undertaken by the bank on each of California's federally-recognized metropolitan areas. The popularity of the initial series led to the current series; Santa Clara County was featured in a 1964 report.

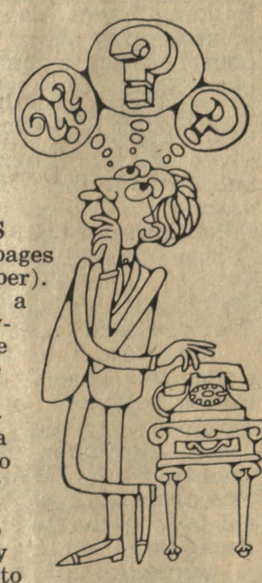
What's doing?

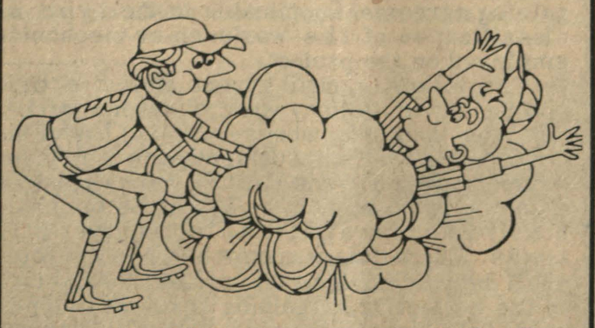


If you ever find yourself in doubt about who to call regarding your telephone service, here's a kind of "pocket directory" I thought you'd find useful:

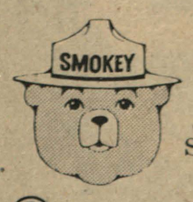
CALL YOUR BUSINESS OFFICE (Check the front pages of your phone book for number). To order a phone, to get a different kind of phone service, to move your service to your new home, to change or add a listing in the phone book, to apply for a telephone credit card, to ask a question about your bill, to check rates for a particular kind of service, to get an additional phone book, to get a free personal directory for often-called numbers, to get help if you've received anonymous calls, to ask about phone service for a handicapped person.

CALL REPAIR SERVICE (Check the front pages of your phone book for number). If your phone does not work, if you find a pay phone out of order.

DIAL "0" FOR OPERATOR. To place a long distance call you can't dial direct, to arrange for a conference call, to call overseas, to find out rates for long distance calls not listed in the phone book, to obtain credit for a misdialed long distance call.



I hope you're joining us on radio for the San Francisco Giants' exciting baseball games. Pacific Telephone is one of the sponsors who are keeping you up on the action again this year.



A reminder from Smokey the Bear: a carelessly discarded match or cigarette—even a spark from a campfire—can start forest fires. So be especially careful during these dry summer months!

end your ice follies.

Get a no frost refrigerator-freezer.

Nobody has to do the old song and dance with sloppy, melted ice anymore. Nor the pushing and shoving and chipping and cracking that went with defrosting ... along with spills on the floor. So why do it?

New refrigerator-freezers don't form frost—anywhere. And with no frost, there's no defrosting chore. New thin-wall refrigerator-freezers provide more storage space in the same floor space—they're bigger inside but no bigger outside. And automatic ice-makers make ice tray bother a thing of the past.

See your dealer for a no frost refrigerator-freezer and end your ice follies forever. PG and E

Local dogs have a day

Three Campbell residents were among the 200 dogs shown at the county fairgrounds recently in the Santa Clara Dog Training Club's 11th annual all-breed obedience trial.

Only "winner" amongst the trio was Mrs. Dian English, 24 S. Christopher who showed her four year old German Shepherd "Rowdy" to a sixth place win in Open.

Rowdy is the third Shepherd Mrs. English has trained and successfully shown. Mrs. Barbara Adcock, 790 Kenneth and her Shepherd weren't so lucky and Mrs. Barbara Williams, 1037 Lucot Way, and Jennifer, a Basset Hound, just had a "fun" day.

The club holds weekly training classes at the county fairgrounds. James A. Crough of Campbell, chairman of the obedience trial, is also in charge of the training program.

Board approves new instructors for West Valley College

Three new instructors have been approved by the West Valley College Board of Trustees for positions on the campus during the 1969-70 school year, according to Dr. Gordon Aumack, dean of instruction.

Mrs. Joy A. Free and John J. Nicholas have been approved as instructors in physical education and William D. Mowatt will take over duties as full-time instructor of English.

Mrs. Free, who holds a masters degree in physical education from Indiana Universtiy, has taught in both high school and university athletic programs. Her most recent position was physical education instructor at Borel Jr. High School in San Mateo.

Nicholas, who holds a masters degree from San Francisco State College, is currently employed at Lynbrook High School in San Jose.

Mowatt has been teaching English and public speaking in West Valley College's extended day program for the past three years and has a teaching background in both English and Spanish.

While serving in the U. S. Army he attended Spanish classes at the University of Puerto Rico. In that country he taught English to native recruits. Since then he has served as English department chairman and faculty club president at James Lick High School.

WHO-WHO-WHO---A recent City Council meeting was enlivened by the appearance of the "owl" (above) who-who called attention to the city-wide beautification contest for business firms now under way. Another "owl" passed out Shasta daisies, the city's official flower, to members of the audience and city officials.

All Campbell businesses are eligible to compete in the annual contest, sponsored by the city's beautification committee and the Chamber of Commerce, which has for its theme, "Beauty Benefits Business".

Firms will be judged on condition of building (paint-up); signs (fix-up); litter control (clean-up); landscaping (kill weeds now) and special beautification efforts.

Awards for the prizewinners will be made at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting, Sept. 25.

A pleasant association

The difference among S & L's is the service they offer. Everything else is much the same. Colonial has a heritage of service. Our name is a reminder of the days when there were town halls and villages... and you did business with people you knew and trusted. All Colonial offices are dedicated to their communities. Most have been a part of their towns and neighborhoods for many years so the people they serve are friends, not customers... and never numbers. Colonial, you see, believes that there is at least one thing more important than the fact it pays the highest interest on insured savings paid day-in to day-out. And that's upholding its reputation for being a pleasant association.
